SUMMER FUN! WHO'S ON THE ROAD AGAIN!?

Summer's back in full force! I don't think we even had two weeks of Spring before that brute Summer just pushed its way onto the scene, throwin' hot elbows and raising temps everywhere! The nerve! (Glad you're back!)

Lots of folks, myself included, will once again be traveling this summer. Whether it's the beloved theme parks in California or Florida, or any one of our nation's grand national parks or historic monuments (or even visiting with Grandma and Grandpa), it seems everyone has a destination this summer.

My destination is San Diego and the Comic Con International for 2022. It's been a few years, but the show will go on this month, and I am SO ready to get back to the streets of beautiful San Diego and catch up with my industry friends, some of whom I've not seen for a few years. I'll be hanging out with my good friend Mark Haynes, who left Maryland years ago to pursue a career in screenwriting and has a few irons in the fire even as we speak. He's a talented guy, and he and his writing partner, Gemstone Publishing's own J.C. Vaughn, deserve that big break they've been working so hard to achieve. Fingers crossed, guys!

HORROR MONTH Meanwhile, in this issue of PREVIEWS, we're celebrating all things terrifying and scary with our "HORROR MONTH"! I've got to admit, I've been a horror fan since childhood when I first discovered the Universal Studios monsters on TV, along with a certain giant monster from Japan whose name ends with a 'zilla.

It was cool catching the tail-end of that first Monster Craze of the 1960s... and it was even better when the second monster craze rolled through in the '70s bringing more great horror movies and merchandise to collectors like me. I don't have to tell you that even today, we're once again in a Monster Craze... with the likes of Pennywise, Annabelle, the Nun, Michael Myers, and others taking the place of the Wolfman, the Mummy, Dracula, and the Frankenstein Monster. But thankfully, they're still getting their dues even today!

Wherever you're going this summer, be it the theme parks, national parks or the Big Show in San Diego, enjoy yourselves and the summer while you can! Before we know it, we'll be wearing sweaters again and kids will be heading back to school. Bummer, I know.

So have a great month, and take this issue along with you wherever your final destination may be...

Your Pal @ PREVIEWS,

Marty

Detective Comics #27 CGC 6.5 Sells for $1.74 Million at Goldin Auctions

On May 21, 2022, Goldin Auctions sold a copy of Detective Comics #27 CGC 6.5 for $1.74 million. It set a new record for Batman's first appearance, surpassing the CGC 7.0 copy that realized $1.5 million in November 2020. Detective Comics #27 first reached $1 million in 2010 with a CGC 8.0 copy. The recent sale is the sixth time Batman's debut sold for more than $1 million.

Goldin's auction had two other top sales featuring the Caped Crusader, including Batman #1 (with the debuts of the Joker and Catwoman) CGC 4.0 that went for $336,000 and one graded CGC 1.5 that achieved $103,200.

Warhol, Cobain, Robinson Record Massive Auction Sales

May 2022 saw a litany of impressive auction sales for pop culture and historical collectibles. The indisputable leader was pop artist Andy Warhol's "Shot Sage Blue Marilyn" portrait of Marilyn Monroe that sold for $195 million at Christie's Auctions. Inspired by a promotional photo for the 1953 film Niagara, the silkscreen set a new record for the highest price paid at auction for a 20th century piece of art.

Nirvana frontman Kurt Cobain's 1969 Fender Mustang electric guitar sold for $4.5 million in Julien's Auctions Music Icons event. Famously used by Cobain for Nirvana's 1991 "Smells Like Teen Spirit" music video, it is now the second most expensive guitar sold at auction.

A baseball bat used by Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson during a 1949 All-Star Game sold for $1.08 million through Goldin Auctions. The bat was one of two specially made for Robinson for that game and according to Goldin, the bat only showed light wear from game usage.

Back to the Beginning as Spawn Turns 30

Spawn was created by comic superstar Todd McFarlane, and first appeared 30 years ago in Spawn #1 (May 1992). Before becoming Spawn, he was Albert Francis Simmons, a decorated officer in the US Marines who rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Simmons was often tasked with assassinations and his conscience was getting to him, so his superior officer had him killed. He was burned to death and sent to Hell where he made a deal with Malebolgia, agreeing to become the Hellspawn if he could see his wife one more time. Malebolgia approved the terms, sending Simmons back to the living realm as Spawn where he eventually became an antihero.

Please tell us a bit about yourself!

Over the last three decades, when I'm not publishing comics like Lady Death, Hellwitch and La Muerta, I'm actually collecting comics! Always seeking fun and obscure titles that recapture my youth, the hunt is always on, and the collection is never complete! Among my prized possessions are a complete run of Marvel's Captain America from Tales of Suspense #58 to the present! In fact, I've been reading Captain America faithfully since July 1974.

What are your favorite projects you've contributed to over the past decade?

Lady Death: Chaos Rules #1, offered in 2016, signaled my return to publishing after fourteen years. It was an amazing time: thrilling and scary at the same time!

What are you currently working on?

I'm currently working on Hellwitch vs. Lady Death: Wargasm #1 & #2, which we are offering this month! As the title suggests, this one is over-the-top!

What fun titles are you reading?

Vault Comics' Barbaric (Vol. 1: Murderable Offenses HC / AUG212157) is an exquisitely violent, but masterfully and uniquely told story about a barbarian foredoomed to help anyone who needs assistance, aided by his bloodthirsty weapon, "Axe"

BOOM! Studios' BRZRKR (Vol. 1 TP / MAY210997) follows an immortal man driven by loss. Loaded with insane action and fuel-injected storytelling by Ron Garney, the lead character's poignant self-reflection, written by Keanu Reeves and Matt Kindt, makes this one a cut above the rest.

Redneck (Vol. 1: Deep in the Heart TP / AUG170579) is Image Comics' fresh approach to vampires. Trying to lay low, these vamps feast on cow blood. But once they're discovered, they go on the run and the myth unfolds in ways that both surprise and entertain.

USER'S GUIDE

There's a lot of awesome comics and products to look through in PREVIEWS. "A lot" might be a bit of an understatement, as each month's catalog is filled with hundreds and hundreds of pages of upcoming comics and related merchandise! It can be easy to accidentally overlook a new series you've been dying to read or a figure you've been pining to add to your shelf when there's so many things to browse. That's why we've put together this guide to help you learn how to use PREVIEWS like a pro to order the awesome titles and products you want!

Learn How to Use PREVIEWS to Order From Your Comic Shop!

WHAT EXACTLY IS PREVIEWS?

PREVIEWS is part catalog, part magazine (we call it a Mag-a-log!) of monthly listings of all of the upcoming comic titles and related products from your favorite publishers and manufacturers in one convenient place. And don't worry—PREVIEWS is organized by publisher and product type (and color-coded to boot!), to make it easy to find and flip to the section or items you're looking for. Each item listing has the information you need, such as format, size, page count, price, release date, stock or item code, and descriptive text, and nearly every listing is accompanied by artwork or images.

The most important aspect of PREVIEWS to remember is that items solicited in the catalog are anticipated to ship 2-3 months later (or more). For example, if you found a comic you wanted in the May issue of PREVIEWS, you can expect to see it turn up in your local comic shop in July. The catalog can be a great resource for figuring out where your favorite comic series is going, or for discovering new ones that you'll want to add to your library—not to mention all the other awesome products!

HOW DO I ORDER FROM PREVIEWS?

When you've picked out all of the items you want, you can fill out the Short Order Form included in your copy of PREVIEWS and submit it to your local comic shop. You can also ask your friendly neighborhood retailer about obtaining a Customer Order Form, a booklet that contains a complete listing of all the items made available for that month. These forms make pre-ordering your comics and products a breeze and can help your local comic shop decide what to stock in the store for other customers, too! Be sure to also ask your retailer about their pullbox or subscription service. Once you've submitted your order, you can sit back and relax, or try to contain your excitement until your comics and merchandise arrive!

SPIDER-MAN WRITER DAN SLOTT MAKES HIS DOCTOR WHO COMIC BOOK DEBUT!

AN EPIC NEW DOCTOR WHO STORY WRITTEN BY EISNER AWARD-WINNING WRITER DAN SLOTT sees companion Martha Jones captured by the insatiable Pyrometh. Get to witness the incredible adventures of the Tenth Doctor like never before!

We caught up with Dan to talk all things Who!

DAN SLOTT (DOCTOR WHO 2022 SPECIAL)

Hey Dan! Super great to have you here! Tell us a little bit about yourself, what have you worked on before?
D: Great to be here. Most people know me from my 10+ year run on Amazing Spider-Man, but I've worked on titles like She-Hulk, Mighty Avengers, Batman Adventures, and a shamelessly Doctor Who-like run of Silver Surfer. Right now I'm Marvel's current writer for Fantastic Four.

Wow, you have been busy! So tell us, how were you introduced to the real Doctor Who, was there a particular era or Doctor that enticed you to the Whoniverse?
D: I got to see Doctor Who whenever my family spent summers at my Grandma's. It was showing on PBS in her area. I got to see a lot of Seasons 12, 13, and 14 with the Fourth Doctor, Sarah Jane, Harry, and then Leela. In 1980, my family moved to London. I got to watch every single episode of The Leisure Hive series, the second they aired. And when I should've been doing my homework, I was reading all of the Target novelizations of all the Doctor Who adventures I'd missed all the way back to An Unearthly Child.

So it's been a part of your life for a long time then. How did you feel when you found out you were going to be the writer for this awesome special edition?
D: Ecstatic! Anyone who knows me knows that Doctor Who is my favorite TV show of all-time. For me, along with Spider-Man, Batman, and Indiana Jones, the Doctor is one of my favorite characters in all of fiction.

What were the main things you want to bring to the Whoniverse?
D: Honestly? Everything! I'm treating this like this is my one and only shot to write for the Doctor. Everything, including the kitchen sink, is going into this one! Time travel, space travel, monsters from both the new and classic eras, and all-new baddies as well! This special will really be a tribute to the RTD era, as we'll see a lead feature with the Tenth Doctor and Martha, and a back-up tale with the Ninth Doctor and Rose.

And how would you describe your writing style?
D: Geeky, silly, and with a healthy amount of schmaltz. Google it.

On your social media there are lots of pictures of you with many of the Doctors. How did you pull that off? And are there any Doctors you haven't met yet?
D: It's a sure fire way to get me to attend a comic con. Whenever I'm invited to a show I ask if there'll be anyone from Doctor Who there and if so, can I please meet them? One of the nice surprises has been how lovely everyone is in person. All the actors, cast, and crew are just the nicest people and the best possible ambassadors for the show. For now, the only Doctors I haven't been lucky enough to meet yet are Sylvester McCoy, Paul McGann, and Jo Martin. So fingers crossed!

WHAT?
IT IS YOU, ISN'T IT?
DON'T YOU RECOGNIZE ME?
WAIT --
HANG ON A SEC'... RACHEL?

Over in the East Bay.
And the story got some coverage in the Oakland and SF papers...
But I didn't hear about it at the time.
I was down in LA, why would I read a San Francisco paper?

And even if I had...
I don't think I would've connected this shooting to my case.
So I still wouldn't have had any idea what I was getting into.

Character Turns by Benjamin Dewey

GET WARPED!

TRAVEL BACK TO THE 1970S WITH JEFF PARKER & BENJAMIN DEWEY

We've got a very intriguing title on this series! So Jeff, though it's actually a bit literal, can you explain what predicament Vampi has gotten herself into for this story?

Parker: Vampirella has been led into a trap by someone who wants to steal her body- to live in it. She thwarts that, but her action sends her mind back to her past self when she first arrived in our world. And it drags a new character with her who wasn't around in 1969. It follows a train of thought a lot of us have had in recent years: what if we went back to a simpler, maybe happier time? Would it work out, solve things for us? Would we come back?

So we've got Vampi essentially back in her old boots, stuck in her body circa 1969 and her earliest days on Earth. In particular, the plan is for the story to play up some of the fan-favorite elements from the original Warren era. Which signatures were you looking to highlight?

Parker: Everything drawn by Jose Gonzalez. His work on the Warren books was mind-blowing and it's what I think of when I hear the title. So she's going back to the time of her boyfriend Adam Van Helsing and her friend the magician Pendragon. There are no cell phones, no one is hacking into a system and everyone is driving sweet cars. It's Free Love Time, so no one thinks twice about her rolling up in a red bikini and cape.

Ben, you're tasked with the challenge of visually distinguishing these two eras and aesthetics. With references like Frank Frazetta, Trina Robbins, and Jose Gonzalez, how are you approaching the "mindwarped" past era in depicting an old school Vampirella and her surroundings?

Dewey: I think it comes down to a combo of respecting the legacy of a character and bringing one's own spin. I know Vampirella is a pulpy character with an over-the-top costume but I, for one, want to avoid making it too cheesecake. Conan is running around in a fur thong but we afford the character dignity and power; it can be the same with Vampirella. The goal is a fun story and Jeff has given me a lot to work with. I like drawing period settings and costumes so that will be a challenge that I welcome.

Fans are going to meet a couple new characters in this time and space-jumping epic. Including the villainous Baroness Gruzal and the naive Ren. What can you tell fans about these new cast members and the approach to their design?

Parker: Ren is hired to follow her, he's a young guy fresh out of college and completely new to this world of the occult. But he catches on fast. The Baroness is our Antagonist - I almost hesitate to call her a villain. But she is definitely throwing Vampi's life all out of whack. She is very much not a typical opponent.

Dewey: Jeff and I have similar aesthetic preferences; he used to be a full-time illustrator so he knows what works and what's going to look clunky. I like a good silhouette and elements that allow for good contrast so I try to include those aspects as I go along even if we switch costumes and, in this case, eras! The new characters will be fun because that's what Parker does; he writes comics I want to read and he always finds a cool spin.

The premise of the series could on paper be applied to all kinds of eras. As a fun final question, from both the writing and art perspectives, what other era(s) do you think it would be fascinating to warp Vampirella into?

Parker: Maybe further back in the 20th century, but I don't know- in my mind she kind of hovers in this eternal groovy late 60s early 70s and I wanted to explore that as a literal thing. And then editor Nate Cosby went for it! And then Dewey agreed to draw it! I hope you like looking at amazing art, by the way. Ben and I met to look at his roughs and first cover the other day and it fired me up so much I rushed home and wrote for hours. I love it when a great book comes together.

Dewey: I'd love to take a whack at the Victorian era because that time is a visual playground for me. It would be great to either have Vampirella in an elaborate gown, have her shock the people with her typical style of dress and/or both! Top hats and hoop skirts are where it's at.

WRITER FRED VAN LENTE INTRODUCES THE NINJETTES

The Ninjettes first burst from the pages of Jennifer Blood in 2012. Now with a new era of J. Blood comics tales, the Ninjettes are back! How excited are you to bring these characters back into the fold and expand your take on the combined mythos?

They are certainly one of the crazier ideas to come out of the original Jennifer Blood series. In the original Garth Ennis/Adriano Batista version, the Ninjettes were this kind of satirical look at "bad girls," I guess you'd say, these bubble-headed college girls who decided to cosplay as ninjas for kicks and promptly got slaughtered by Jennifer Blood, who is an actual killer. When Dynamite asked me to do my own take on them I decided to go even crazier than that.

So it's safe to say I am crazy excited.

For those readers who are not as familiar, can you introduce us to the Ninjettes as characters and their premise that brings them together?

AFor this take on the Ninjettes, a corrupt arm of the government has instituted a program to abduct young people they have predicted to be violent, matching a "profile." We follow the ten female captors of this program, who have their hoods pulled off in a place we're calling the Concrete Dojo where an adorable chibi ninja whom the girls immediately dub "ninjette" tell them they have duel each other to death if they have any hope of getting out of there alive.

final covers may vary. all art pending licensor approval. all properties TM & © their respective owners.

The survivors will be rewarded lavishly by becoming professional assassins for the very government that kidnapped them. Or so they claim. Needless to say, some of our heroes have their doubts. And others, far from heroes, think this is the greatest thing they've ever heard. Here, as we say in the business, lies dramatic conflict.

Do you have a favorite among the Ninjettes to write dialogue and scenes for, or is it too hard to choose between them?

I would say don't get attached to any one Ninjette. This is a book characterized by a high body count. Two buy it in the first issue. Come to think of it, one of them buys it on the first page.

Which is not to say there isn't a main character--there is one, Steph, a politically active would-be cartoonist who is pretty certain she's been railroaded here for her activism. She's a sweet girl and probably not an actual violent person at all. She wants nothing more than to escape Concrete Dojo and hold accountable the sadistic scumbags behind this cruel program.

Paradoxically, however, the only way she's going to be able to escape and mete out justice to her oppressors is by winning this murder contest. Thereby becoming exactly what her oppressors want her to be. Dramatic. Conflict.

Should fans expect some appearances or references to Jennifer Blood within the tale as well?

Hard maybe on that one.

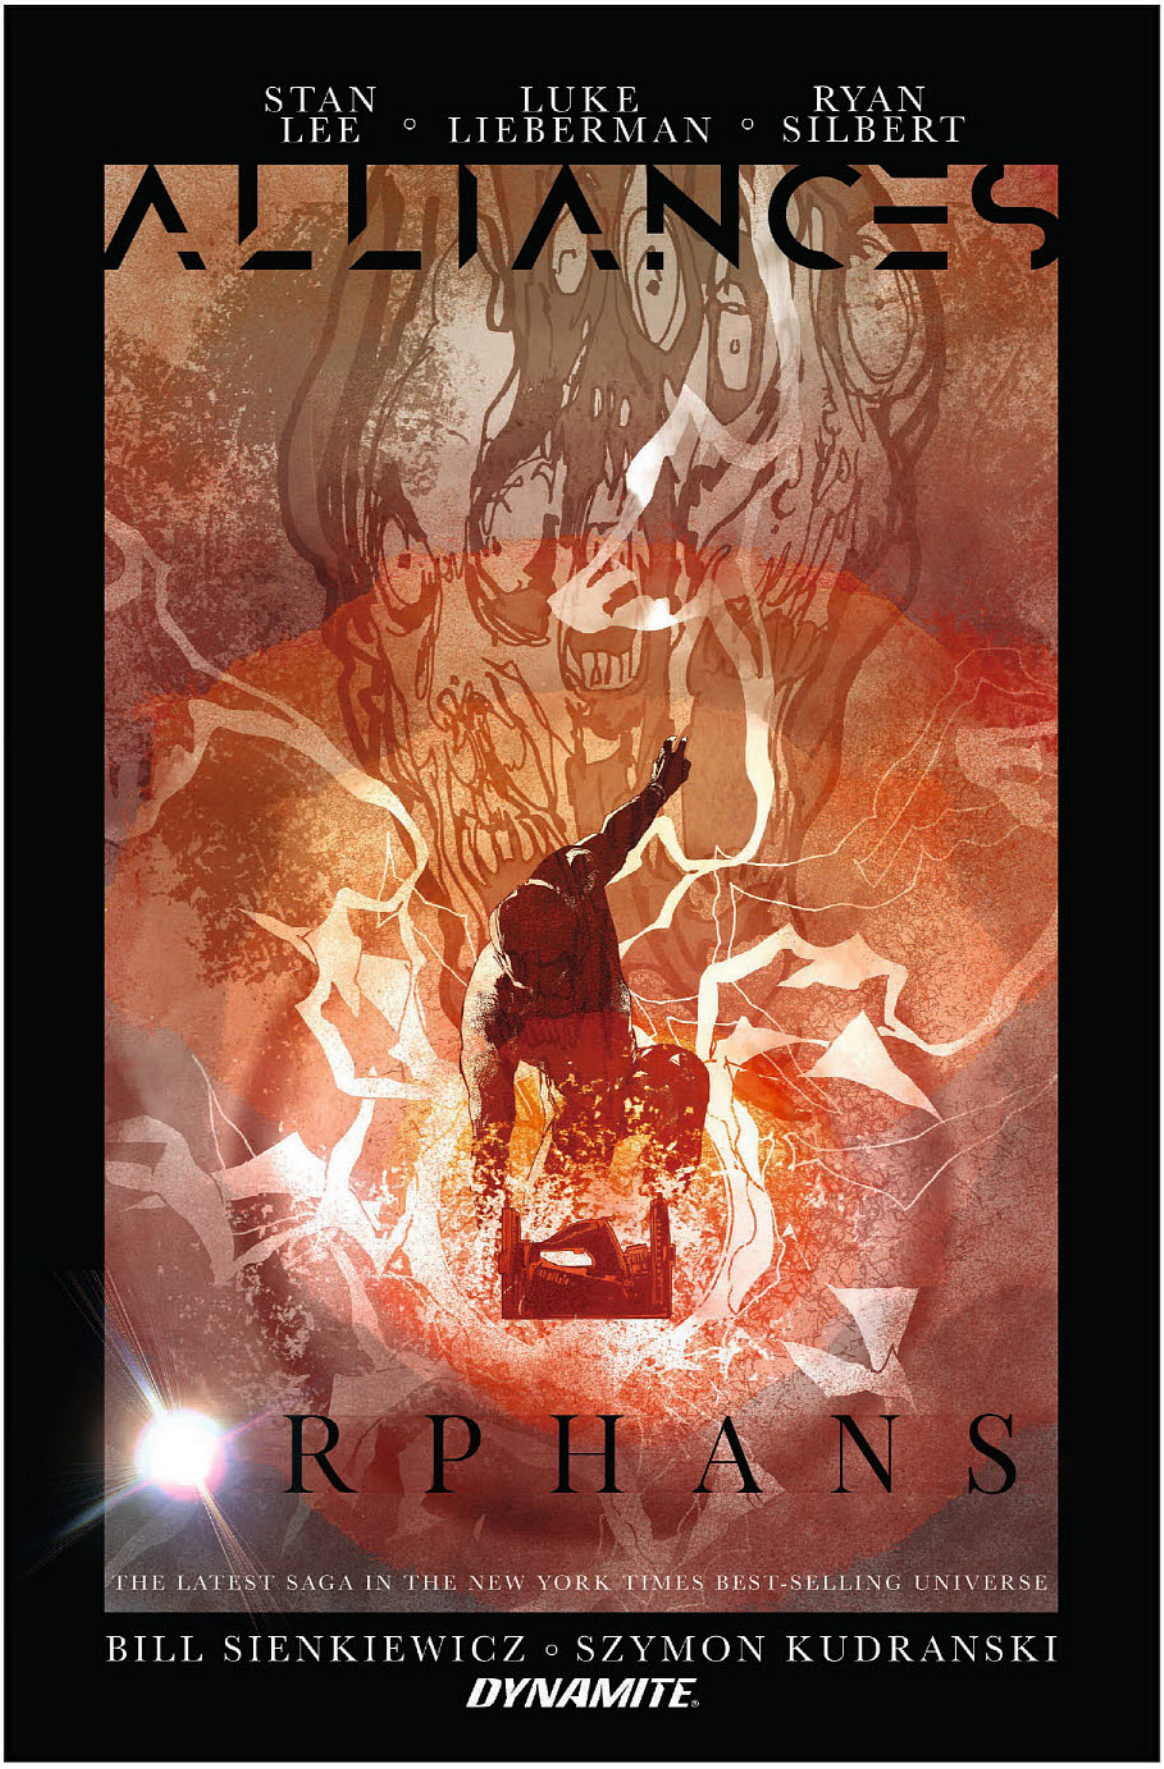

How has the collaboration been so far with artist Joseph Cooper and seeing his designs and pages roll in for the characters and your scripts?

I love working with Joe, and already he's crushing it. We've done Magnus Robot Fighter and The Comic Book Story of Basketball OGN before and this is an interesting mixture of sports and violence, so he is pretty much the perfect fit.

ADVANCE SOLICITED FOR OCTOBER!

Writer: Stan Lee (prologue), Luke Lieberman, and Ryan Silbert
Creators: Stan Lee, Luke Lieberman, and Ryan Silbert
Artists: Bill Sienkiewicz (prologue) and Szymon Kudranski
Cover: Bill Sienkiewicz

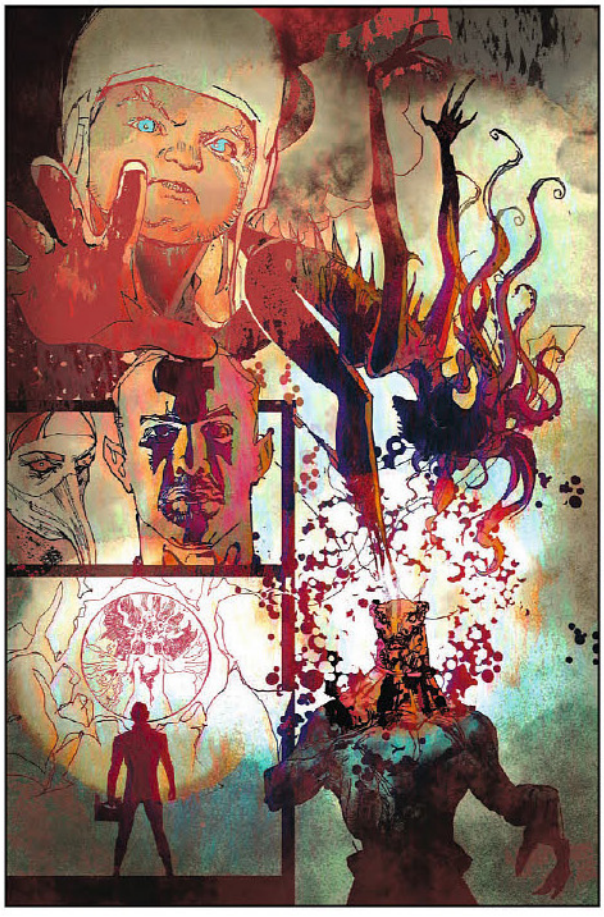

From the mind of legendary comics creator Stan Lee, the architect of the Marvel Universe, comes Alliances: Orphans, a brand-new original graphic novel set in the New York Times best-selling Alliances universe, co-written by Lee with Luke Lieberman (Red Sonja) and Ryan Silbert (The Coldest Case). This cosmic adventure features fully painted artwork by Bill Sienkiewicz, who handles the prologue and cover, and Szymon Kudranski.

Orphans blasts readers into the heart of our galaxy alongside William Ackerson, a man lost in space on a quest to find the source of his uncanny abilities. As gravity waves ripple across reality, warping time and space, he meets the Orphans. They are each the last of their kind, all their kin having been wiped out by the alien Hive: Little Boy, their giant childlike leader; Haze, a caustic creature of pure vapor; Rascal, a self-loathing zealot with dark secrets; and Critter, a being that's equal parts monster and puppy.

This ragtag group find themselves in over their heads when their space-heist is hijacked. They have a stowaway with her own agenda: Samsi, the fearsome survivor of a civilization that once ruled the galaxy.

Orphans is a fast-paced, intergalactic treasure hunt that explodes the Alliances universe into the cosmos. It introduces an extraordinary band of lone survivors, that must become a family to save the very fabric of reality.

STAN LEE'S ALLIANCES: ORPHANS INTRODUCED BY WRITERS LUKE LIEBERMAN & RYAN SILBERT

Though this is the first story to debut as a graphic novel, Stan's original signature medium, this is not the kickoff to the Alliances universe. Orphans follows the novel A Trick of Light and the A New Reality audio drama. For newcomers, how would you describe the Alliances mythos?

It all started with the question, as millions of fans heard Stan proclaim in his introduction to the Alliances Universe, "What is more real, a world we are born into or one we create ourselves?" How technology shapes our reality and our identity was the original question that propelled this new universe of characters and stories. The dream of Alliances was to not only find new fantastical corners of our ever-evolving techno-sphere but to also jump into space and explore the kind of pulpy sci-fi stories that Stan began his career with in Tales of Suspense and Journey into Mystery and his cosmic curiosities leading up to the Marvel Age of comics.

Orphans really stands on its own, introducing a whole slew of new characters who find their home among the stars.

There are so many talented creators involved in telling these new tales, and it all goes back in part to Stan the Man. What roles did Stan Lee play in crafting this world and its characters? And how do you guys and the rest of the team then take those pieces and carry them out into the full final work that readers will be enjoying?

What is incredible about Stan is the breadth of his career – he had immersed himself in storytelling as diverse as Shakespeare, from poetry, to sci-fi serials. And, by the time he was in his late thirties, he had already written thousands of comic pages, only to create the Fantastic Four, Spider-Man and the X-Men when he was in his forties. He never stopped generating ideas, he worked every day of his life - for decades on decades.

We spent years developing the framework and characters of what would become the Alliances universe with Stan. Orphans builds on this and includes a special prologue, the Traitor's Revenge, which he co-wrote and was one of the earliest scenes we developed with him when first embarking on this creative journey. This is really the origin story for Alliances, and we wanted to save it for the right moment. The idea of an alien Inventor enslaved, forced to use his genius to create weapons for his enemy and then turning his greatest device against his masters. The title is an homage to Stan's first published comic book work "A Traitors Revenge' which debuted in Captain America Comics #3.

The first stories in the series, A Trick of Light and New Reality, were launched as audio originals at Audible. Stan and our team were excited to invite readers to hear those tales and envision the stories for themselves, for each listener to become the artist, the Jack Kirby or Steve Ditko. But we knew that once we brought Alliances to the page, we needed a visionary artist, and we ended up with not just one...but two! Bill unleashed his imagination on Traitor's Revenge and Szymon balanced the cosmic stakes with the intimate characters moments beautifully.

In this graphic novel, fans will be meeting the Orphans, the ragtag, misfit crew taking on this quest to save the very fabric of reality. Can you tell us a bit about the cast of the book and which ones did you enjoy writing and fleshing out the most?

The Orphans are each the last of their kind, all their kin wiped out by the evil Hive. The Hive let them live, selecting them for captivity as genetic relics. Stan had a mantra when it came to storytelling. "It's all about the characters." They are the heart of the story - their relationships to one another. His attitude was, if the audience identify with the characters, then they will follow those characters on the most fantastical journeys. Little Boy is the Inventor's mentee and from an ancient species that ages slowly but he's basically an overgrown child. His best friend Haze is made out of pure vapor and sarcasm. Their pilot Rascal is a cynic with a heart of gold. And Critter is their pet monster. But there is no way we would describe the Orphans to you in a few words - it took us 180 pages to explore them.

The human, William Ackerson is a character with a lot of history in the Alliances Universe, this story meets up with him after the events of A New Reality, the second book on Audible (Wil Wheaton is the audio reader, check it out!). We meet him deep in space, plagued with his powers, searching for a cure. Then there is Samsi, our space samurai, and Ekol Razel our villain - he likes to eat lower life forms, and he considers everyone else a lower life form.

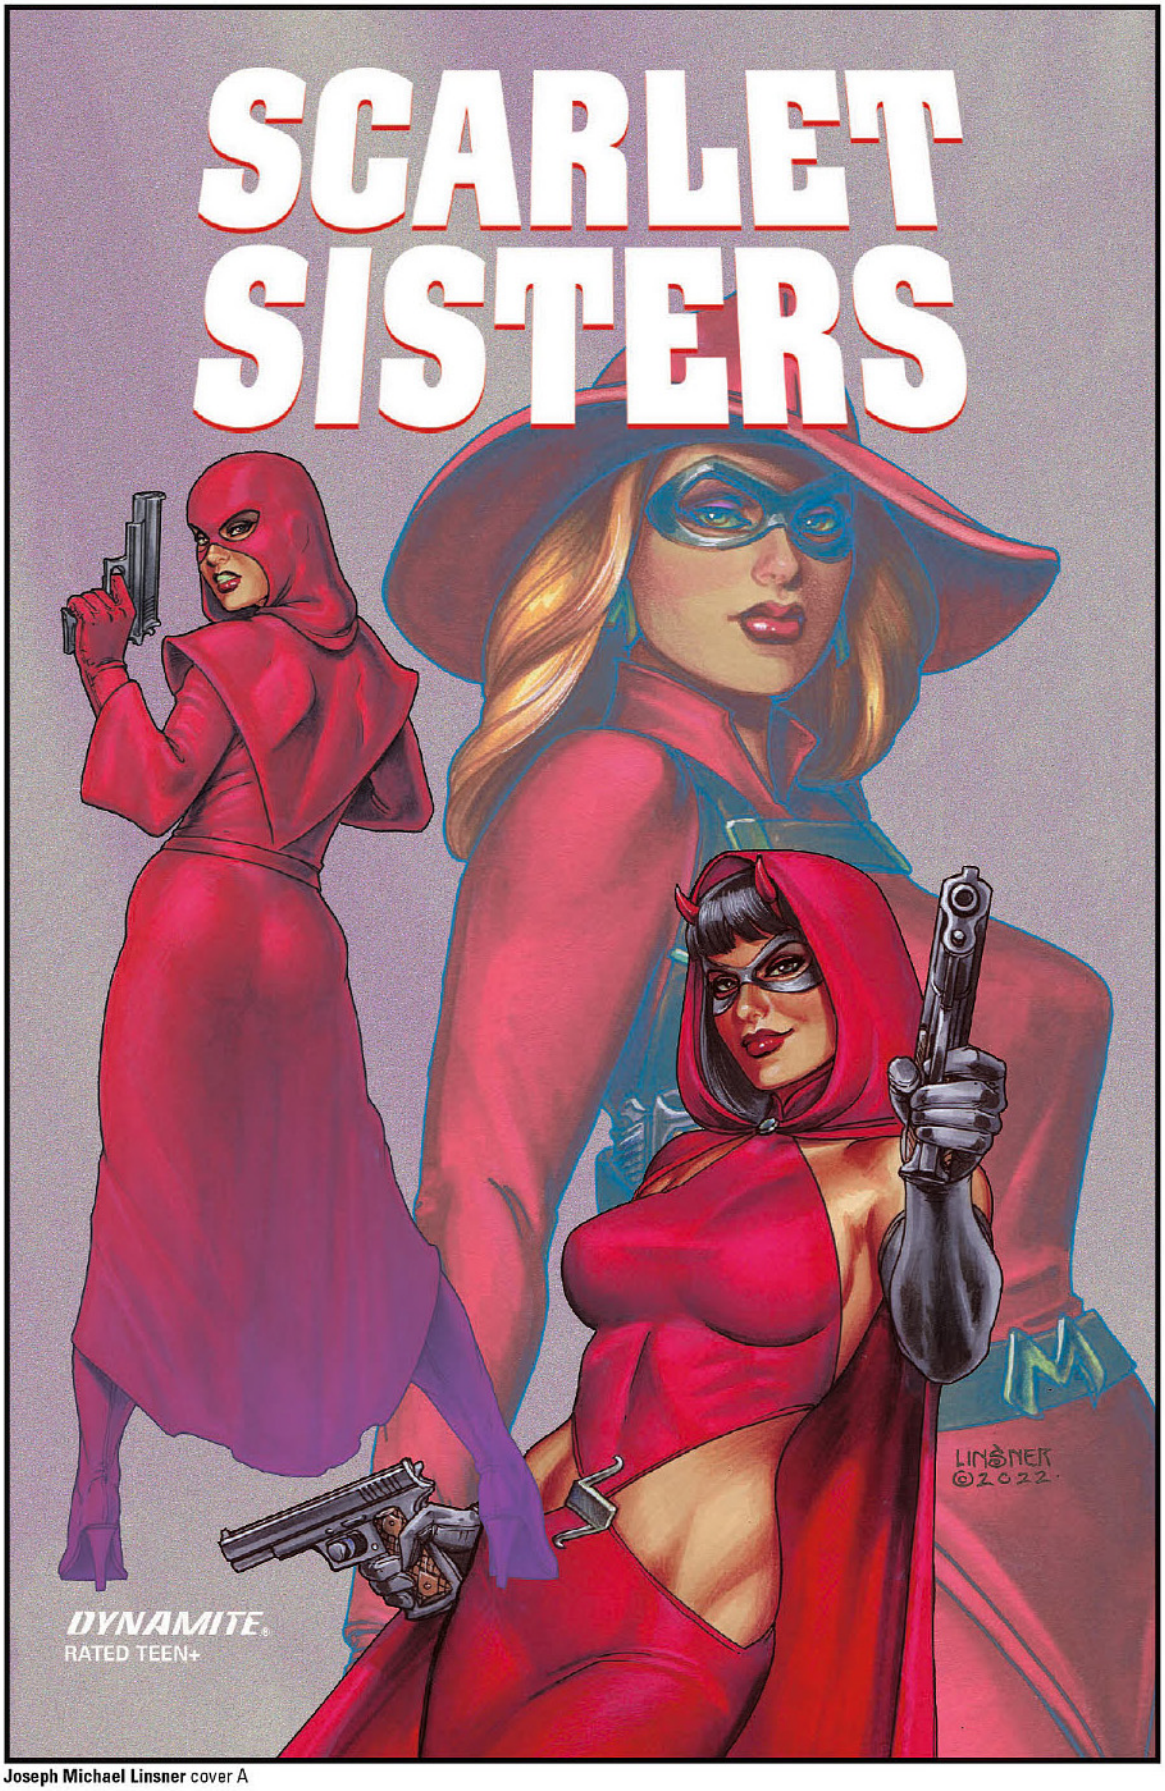

They are all left to deal with the aftermath of the Inventor's revenge - which includes a black hole the Inventor experimented on that is... malfunctioning.

As we mentioned, there are a couple other pieces of the Alliances puzzle already. Of course people can jump right into this graphic novel completely blind. But for those who want to dig deeper or are returning fans, can they expect any neat connections, or teases of what more could come next?

Of course, it's all connected but you don't need to know the canon to enjoy Orphans. The prologue, Traitor's Revenge, is essentially a prologue to the entire series, including the New York Time's best-seller, A Trick of Light. Orphans has nods to the first two projects, including spotlighting the fate of William Ackerson, a brilliant inventor whose actions are central to the plots of A Trick of Light and A New Reality - and for close-eyed fans, teases the future.

"AA-SHANTA 'NYGH! You are off! Send back earth's gods to their haunts on unknown Kadath, and pray to all space that you may never meet me in my thousand other forms...; FOR I AM NYARLATHOTEP, THE CRAWLING CHAOS!"

Randolph Carter, a traveler to dreamland, tries not to wake up before reaching his goal, the elusive Kadath: the home of the gods, a place of fantasy and overflowing imagination. Carter walks through a world full of threats and abominable monsters, but also of palaces, exuberant cities, and geographies that remind man of his insignificant role on the gigantic cosmic chessboard.

What are the reasons to keep going when everything around us is terrifying and lethal? Kadath may offer some answers to this question!

An adaptation of H.P. Lovecraft's The Dream-Quest of Unknown Kadath unlike anything you've read before.

Monsters don't only exist in children's imaginations...

Passionate about reading, Elliott has always been drawn to the stories of boogymen, those monstrous creatures which, at night, hide in the shadows or under the bed to frighten little children. He can't imagine how much they will change his life... Witnessing the bloody murder of his parents, he will discover that boogymen do indeed exist, and very precise codes govern their existence. When one of the most powerful boogymen, "Father-Death," decides to protect him, Elliott finds himself plunged into a terrible conflict at the heart of a universe as terrifying as it is fascinating. On a dark, stormy night, Elliott's destiny will be fulfilled...

Mathieu Salvia and Djet reinvent a whole mythology of childhood in a tender horror story and an initiatory journey of mourning and the acceptance of fear.

HORROR MONTH

ABLAZE proudly presents "14," the second silent graphic novel created by Filipino comic artist, Manix Abrera. Winner of a National Book Award (Category: Wordless Graphic Literature) in 2015, awarded by the National Book Development Board and Manila Critics Circle.

14 tells the story of a human who mysteriously discovers a 13th floor in his building and finds himself in the middle of a storytelling session among different mythological creatures of Philippine folklore. Together, with a partying crowd of supernatural beings, he listens to stories narrated by creatures such as the Manananggal, Diwata, Tikbalang, Kapre, Tiyanak, and even by a White Lady and a Doppelganger. 14 is a grand narrative of weird yet wonderful tales, humorous albeit dark and spooky, surreal but unarguably true to the emotions of the heart.

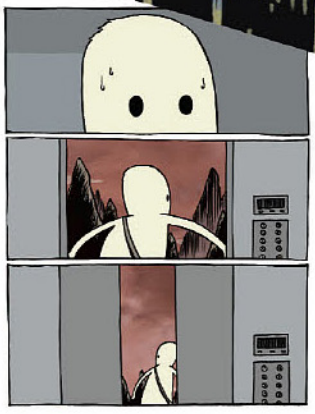

Using absolutely no words in this graphic novel, Manix successfully tells the stories through careful planning of each scene and sequence. Frame by frame, panel by panel, Manix effectively renders each scene in detail and maximizes the power of images to completely convey the stories and emotions he wants to evoke in his readers. It is now up to you, the reader, to notice these details, to savor each frame, page by page until the big picture and meaning unfold sans the usual text balloons. Sounds mind-blowing!

CEREBUS IN HELL? PRESENTS: FLAILING AT LOVE ONE-SHOT

(W) David Birdsong, Dave Sim
(A/CA) Gustave Dore & Various
Very Happily Married (just ask Marie) David Birdsong trashes his ex-wife and pretty much everyone else's - past, present and future — relationships besides his own, starting with Cerebus' on-line Porn Addiction and Free On-line Advice as to what to do about it, "Advice To a Lovelorn Whore" (that's the ex-wife I was telling you about). That's right! We're bringing Mainstream Values to the comic-book field! Dishing the dirt and letting you figure out who it is we're talking about! Nothing hotter in 2022 than TMI parodies of obscure 1950s DC romance titles (sad but true). (STL238695)
24pgs, B&W $4.00

CEREBUS VOLUME 3: CHURCH & STATE I TP (REMASTERED EDITION)

(W/A/CA) Dave Sim
Thirty years ago, the idea that a genocidal, absolutist "fire and brimstone" faith-based ideology could actually steamroll its way across national borders, financing itself by looting its own citizenry was considered too far-fetched "even for comic books" so that it could only be addressed in the broad confines of the Ultimate Parody Comic, Dave Sim & Gerhard's Cerebus. FOREST HILLS BOOTLEG SOCIETY GN
(W) Dave Baker

When Brooke, Kelly, Maggie, and Melissa buy a bootleg anime DVD at a gas station, they get much more than they bargained for with Super Love XL, a risqué move featuring—among other things—a giant mecha who shoots lasers out of her chest. The four girls are horrified (and maybe a little fascinated). It's so unlike anything they've seen, would probably shock everyone else in their town, and definitely would take over their extremely conservative Christian school. That's when they have the idea to sell copies to local boys... for twenty dollars a pop. But as the market for mildly titillating anime DVDs grows, the girls realize they'll need new material. On top of figuring out how to replicate their first success, there's growing tension within the group. Will the four girls' shared history be strong enough to see them through this upheaval? Or will they learn that some things can only end in heartbreak? (STL237045) (C: 0-1-1)

This Black Mirror-style anthology examines the rapid proliferation of technology, the cultural and political polarization of the country, and the technocrats that have driven us to such extremes of thought that we need to present the present as something...futuristic. In this issue, people throughout history dream of a better tomorrow, filled with life-saving medicine, instant communication, and methods of travel that bring humanity closer together. Surely a world with such wonders should be a utopia. Right?

PLAY LIKE A GIRL GN
(W) Misty Wilson
(A) David Wilson

Debut author Misty Wilson chronicles her seventh-grade experience as the only girl on her town's football team in this empowering graphic memoir. Misty never shies away from a challenge, on or off the field. So when the boys tell her she can't play football, there's only one thing to do: Join their team and show them what she's got. But the training is rougher than she thought—and so are the other guys, who aren't thrilled about having a girl on their team. Middle school isn't so easy, either. Misty wants to fit in with the popular kids, but they think a girl playing football is "weird." Even her best friend doesn't get it. Can Misty find a way to score points with her teammates, make new friends, and show everyone —including herself—what it means to play like a girl? (STL237343) (C: 0-1-0)

As Robb wins victory after victory, his sister Arya finds her own small way to turn the tides against the Lannister forces from her secret place inside Harrenhal—while back at Winterfell, their brother Bran is about to discover the true meaning of his prophetic dreams. Misfortune is a dark look into the prisms that create the illusion we call modern life, guided by fortunes from fortune cookies. EASY TO LEARN, DIFFICULT TO MASTER GN
(W) David Kushner (A) Koren Shadmi
A deep, nostalgic dive into the advent of gaming, Easy to Learn, Difficult to Master returns us to the emerging culture of Silicon Valley. At the center of this graphic history, dynamically drawn in colors inspired by old computer screens, is the epic feud that raged between Atari founder Nolan Bushnell and inventor Ralph Baer for the title of "father of the video game." While Baer developed the first TV video-game console and ping-pong game in the 1960s, Bushnell, a self-taught whiz kid from Utah, put out Atari's pioneering table-tennis arcade game, Pong, in 1972. Thus, a prolonged battle began over who truly spearheaded the multibillion-dollar gaming industry, and around it a sweeping narrative about invention, inspiration, and the seeds of digital revolution. THE TRAGEDIE OF MACBETH #1 (OF 2)

Writer: William Shakespeare • Adaptation/Artist: Stewart Kenneth Moore

Shakespeare died over 400 years ago and no story captures the mysticism and brutality of Scottish history quite like Macbeth. This graphic novel aims to tell the darkest version yet of this tale of witchcraft, murder, manipulation and unbridled ambition.

Based on an adapted version of the play, the pacing of the panels and scene setting serves to clarify aspects of the play that can be hard to understand on the stage.

FISHHEAD: THE ART OF RAY TROLL

Writer/Artist: Ray Troll

Ray Troll's new book Fishhead is an exuberant plunge into the fantastic realities of sea creatures and prehistoric animals that come alive with scientific realism and his quirky sense of humor. For more than four decades, this celebrated Alaskan artist has been luring, hooking, and landing fans around the world with his mesmerizing renditions of the inhabitants of Planet Ocean, past and present. His art is featured in the nation's major natural history museums including the Smithsonian, in galleries, and in books, as well as on immensely popular t-shirts. Part natural history adventure and part underground comic, his work depicts beautiful and accurately drawn fish of all kinds, Northwest Coast totems, Freud and Darwin, fossils, resurrections of extinct animals, and much more.

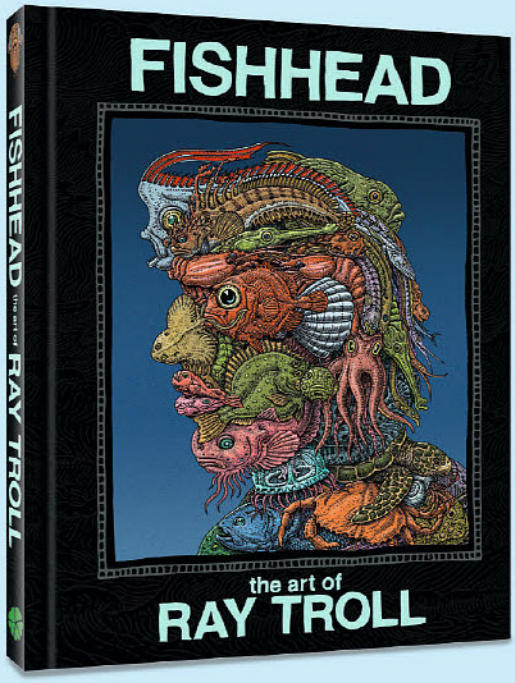

Troll's art is deeply thought provoking (pun intended) but also simply fun to experience and never far from an inside joke he seems to be sharing with everyone. Some of his pieces are amusingly tongue-in-cheek, others are beautifully surrealistic and evocative of the interconnectedness of life on Earth, and his grandly composed major pieces are brilliant, inspiring panoramas of the natural world. His whimsy and attention to detail in his renderings of fish and other aquatic creatures has earned him a devoted following of scientists, anglers, and people who just like a good laugh. Welcome to the fishy, funny, inspiring art of Ray Troll.

A dark fairy tale about surviving the human experience, Beautiful Darkness is a harrowing look at the human psyche and the darkness that hides behind the routine politeness and meaningless kindness of civilized society. The sweet faces and bright leaves of Kerascoët's joyful watercolors only serve to highlight the evil that dwells beneath, as characters allow their pettiness, greed, and jealousy to take over. It a bleak allegory on the human condition; Kerascoët's and Fabien Vehlmann's work is a searing condemnation of our vast capacity for evil writ tiny. (STK622626)

FRANCIS ROTHBART! THE TALE OF A FASTIDIOUS FERAL

By Thomas Woodruff

$75.00 / HC / 300 pgs / FC / 10.25" × 14"

Francis Rothbart follows a feral child who is raised by magpies and is repeatedly struck by lightning. Consequently, the child develops eccentric talents, which he then abuses, leading to his ultimate destruction by the same natural world that once nurtured him. Written mostly in rhymed verse, and referencing both the Venetian landscapes of Bellini, Pierro di Cosimo, and the animated backdrops of Jay Ward and Chuck Jones, Woodruff's images echo with familiarity, portraying a world that is not only our own but also exists in the place of our half-remembered dreams.

SEE YOU AT SAN DIEGO: AN ORAL HISTORY OF COMIC-CON, FANDOM, AND THE TRIUMPH OF GEEK CULTURE

By Mathew Klickstein; Forewords by Stan Sakai & Jeff Smith; Afterword by RZA

$39.99 / SC / 480 pgs / FC / 8" × 10"

This oral history of the San Diego Comic-Con explodes with intimate reflections, hilarious observations, and at times, heartbreaking stories by Neil Gaiman, Frank Miller, Kevin Smith, Bruce Campbell, Felicia Day, Scott Aukerman, Stan Sakai, Sergio Aragonés, Trina Robbins, the Russo Bros., Lloyd Kaufman, Tim Seeley, Kevin Eastman, and many others about how the geeks transformed mainstream American pop culture into comic book culture. The book also features forewords by Stan Sakai (Usagi Yojimbo) and by Jeff Smith (Bone), plus an afterword by Wu-Tang Clan's RZA along with 400+ photos and art.

STILL ALIVE

By Safdar Ahmed

$25.00 / HC / 240 pgs / B&W / 7" × 9.8"

Safdar Ahmed visited Sydney's Villawood Immigration Detention Centre in 2011. He brought pencils and sketchbooks with him and began drawing with the detainees. Weaving journalism, history, and autobiography, Still Alive is an intensely personal indictment of Australia's refugee detention policies and procedures, which are not unlike those in many Western nations. It is also a searching reflection on the redemptive power of art. (And death metal.)

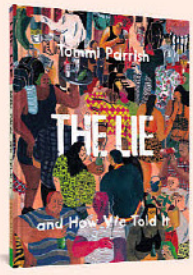

DELIA

by Hans Rickheit and Krissy Dorn

$25.00 / SC / 240 pgs / B&W / 7" × 10"

When Delia receives mysterious radio signals from beyond the planet, her curiosity is sparked. The young scientist teams up with an esteemed Professor and his bohemian son to convince the skeptical citizenry that this is not all just some elaborate hoax. Set in an atmospheric '50s-era city in a parallel universe, Delia is a sprightly comics collaboration between cartoonist Hans Rickheit (The Squirrel Machine, Cochlea & Eustachia) and his wife, Krissy Dorn. This sci-fi adventure romp brims with dark humor, danger, and ominous allegorical undertones.

A Creator You Should Know: WALT SIMONSON

While attending the Rhode Island School of Design, writer-artist Walt Simonson created Star Slammers, a different version of which years later would become Marvel Graphic Novel #6 and later a Star Slammers series from Malibu's Bravura imprint. Between those two periods he established himself as a creative force, chiefly with the award-winning Manhunter back-up feature in Detective Comics, on which he collaborated with writer Archie Goodwin. Following work on DC's Metal Men and Hercules Unbound and Heavy Metal's Alien adaptation (again with Goodwin), he made his way to Marvel. Beginning with Thor #337, Simonson wrote and illustrated a definitive run on the title, eventually ending with Thor #382. Over the years, his other Marvel work included Battlestar Galactica, Star Wars, Fantastic Four, The Avengers, X-Factor (with wife Louise Simonson) and others. At DC, among other work, provided covers for Jack Kirby's Fourth World, wrote and illustrated 25 issues of Orion, illustrated Elric: The Making of a Sorcerer, and wrote the Catwoman and The Demon strip in Wednesday Comics.

SPOTLIGHT ON

SURVIVOR: ARON'S STORY HC

(W) Alex Teplish
(A) Deveo Media Studio & Various

Aron considered himself a typical Jewish-Soviet boy, getting along with his Russian and Ukrainian neighbors while growing up in multi-cultural Odessa of the 1930s. As Nazi Germany began its march across Europe, with the extermination of the Jewish people as one of its aims, the Germans set their sights on the Soviet Union, fighting the Red Army for territory while committing mass atrocities against the Jews and other people they deemed "unfit for life." Living through the Odessa Massacre, Aron, his two brothers, sister, and parents were expelled from their home city, struggling to survive the Holocaust perpetrated by the German and Romanian Army along with their local collaborators. Aron's story, visually depicted here in the graphic novel form, allows us to experience the events first hand, through the eyes of young Aron himself, while learning about one of the least documented episodes of the Holocaust. GRAPHIC UNIVERSE

UNRETOUCHABLE GN

(W/A) Sofia Szamosi

Olive is spending the summer before art school at a coveted internship, helping one of the fashion industry's elite digital-imaging specialists. After a glamourous New York photoshoot, she learns that taking pictures is only the first step. She discovers the "violent verbs" (cut, crop, slice, lasso) of image retouching software and the secrets behind "virtual models." Soon Olive is fixating on her own appearance and pondering the ethics of her work behind the scenes. As college gets closer, she'll try to get out of her own head, attempt to quit the Internet, and finally embrace image-making on her own terms. Unretouchable is a window into the little-known, hugely influential world of fashion photography and a tribute to self-acceptance. He was determined to reveal what families like his were enduring in Syria: bombings by their own government and days hiding in dark underground shelters. Armed with the camera on his phone and the support of his family, he started reporting on the war using social media. He interviewed other kids like him to show what they hope for and dream about. More than anything, he did it to show that Syrian kids like his toddler brother and infant sister, are just like kids in any other country. Art by YA This book is intended for readers aged 14 and up. It may contain themes considered "young adult".

A giant baby girl is found and adopted by a local family who bring her back to their village. She grows to become an even bigger giant, learning life's complicated lessons made even complicated by her enormous size and uniqueness. Can she weather a society that faces her with frightened hostility and prejudice to find love and, ultimately, the freedom to be herself? Is her size less of a threat than her gender?

A wonderous, fantastical tale of feminism, diversity, love, freedom, and the quest to be oneself.

NEUROCOMIC COMIC ABOUT THE BRAIN

(W) Hana Ros (A) Matteo Farinella
Neurocomic is a psychedelic journey through the human brain that explores how we feel, remember, and dream by way of graphic novel. Examining the differences between brain, mind, and soul as well as how different mental illnesses and substances impact our brain activity, it ventures from deserted islands and neuron forests to memory caves and castles of deception. Using a mythical brigade of characters like guitar-playing sea slugs, giant toads, and sea monsters to tell the story, Hana Ros creates a "down the rabbit hole" atmosphere that takes the reader on a trip that feels at times psychedelic, although the art is done entirely in black and white. To mark this occasion, Screem invited Dacre Stoker, the great-grandnephew of Bram Stoker (author of the novel Dracula in 1897), to write an article on the history regarding the controversial plagiarism by F.W. Murnau's 1922 German film version of the vampire story. It's a fascinating read that will clear up many of the false rumors surrounding the film and the novel. Screem #40 marks our largest section of movie reviews, and our limited edition cover featuring the lovable Robot Monster (artwork by Mark Maddox) is the icing on the cake! THE PHILOSOPHER, THE DOG AND THE WEDDING: THE STORY OF THE INFAMOUS FEMALE PHILOSOPHER HIPPARCHIA GN

(W/A/CA) Barbara Stok

Greece, the 4th century BCE. Hipparchia is about to marry the rich son of a family friend when she meets Crates. As the marriage approaches, Hipparchia becomes more and more captivated by the views and way of life of this strange philosopher who lives like a wanderer. Gradually she starts to realize that the safe, comfortable life of luxury that has been mapped out for her is actually a life of emptiness. This book shows us that the insights from thousands of years ago are still relevant today. One of the fundamental principles of the Cynics was that we can only attain true happiness if we are independent of material possessions and social position. Hipparchia was a strong woman who had the courage to live by her own ideals, despite all the prevailing beliefs of her time. South Italy's "far west." Between history and fiction, the story of the legendary brigand Michelina De Cesare. During the '60 of the XIX century, the phenomenon known as "brigandism" in the southern regions of Italy is our own "far west." An entire population conquered by the army which descended from the north, deprived of its lands, of its laws, of its traditions, an invasion met with a diffused and transveral resistance: former Borbonic soldiers, former veterans both from Garibaldi's and republican armies, but also families, chapelains and whole villages. Among the ranks of those who fought to the bitter end was Michelina De Cesare, in the territories near Caserta, where she was betrayed. (STL225802) (C: 0-1-2)

(W) Steve Niles, Monica Richards (A) Kelly Williams, Sian Mandrake (CA) Kelly Williams

But as she and her very eccentric animal family prepare to celebrate their favorite holiday, they discover this is no ordinary Halloween. A full moon is coming, bringing something completely unexpected to the desert ranch where they all live. On this All Hallows' Eve, Lucy, Yob, and the entire Yard Gang must go in search of their Halloween Spirit! (STL236864)

IT WON'T ALWAYS BE LIKE THIS GN

(W/A/CA) Malaka Gharib

It's hard enough to figure out boys, beauty, and being cool when you're young, but even harder when you're in a country where you don't understand the language, culture, or social norms. Malaka doesn't feel like she fits in when she visits her dad for her annual summer vacation abroad — she sticks out in Egypt and doesn't look anything like her fair-haired half siblings. But she adapts. She learns that Nirvana isn't as cool as Nancy Ajram, that there's nothing better than a Fanta and a melon-mint hookah, and that her new stepmother, Hala, isn't so different from Malaka herself. (W) Mel Smith, Paul H. Birch (A/CA) Frank Cirocco

A riverside tavern proves eventful for clandestine deals to be made but gossip overheard forces a local baron of ill repute to cover his tracks; and these misdeeds sending the town into a mutinous uproar. Already in the baron's debt, Victor Frankenstein narrowly avoids a trail of blood lying all too chilling close, only for a previous chance meeting with a sailor to ultimately prove to his advantage — god strong sea legs provide the perfect foundation for his monster as Victor seeks to reanimate the dead! Eighteen-year-old Thumper Connell still has an imaginary friend: the masked killer from his favourite slasher film. Thumper is obsessed with horror and always has been. He fills his time with scary VHS rentals and hanging out with his fellow fans, The Murder Club. But everything changes when his local video shop acquires one of the notorious films known as "video nasties" — films so scary, they're the target of the British Moral Decency League's crusade to ban and burn. But it's only a movie, right? It's all just imaginary, isn't it?

A story about the perception of evil, the power of genre, the love of fandom, the need to create art, oh, and crap-your-pants TERROR!

TALES OF A SEVENTH GRADE LIZARD BOY GN
(W/A) Jonathan Hill
Drawing on the experiences of his Vietnamese American family and his love of '80s sci-fi shows, Jonathan Hill crafts a funny, insightful graphic novel about the immigrant experience and the perils of middle school. Threatened with diminishing resources, Booger Lizk't and his family flee their lizard community deep below Earth's crust to survive above among humans. The Lizk't family of Elberon now passes as the Tomkins family of Eagle Valley. "Tommy Tomkins" wears a human face to school but can't seem to fit in no matter how he looks. Only Dung Tran, an immigrant from Vietnam and fellow outsider, sees Tommy for who he is inside, which is nothing like the outer-space lizard invaders on TV's hottest series. THE LORD OF THE RINGS: HOBBIT HOLE STATUES

From Alliance Entertainment. "In a hole in the ground there lived a Hobbit. Not a nasty, dirty, wet hole. It was a Hobbit hole, and that means comfort." Bright round doors in summery hues dot the lush, grassy hillsides of Hobbiton like wildflowers. Behind each doorway, comfortably appointed burrows wind into earth: each one home to a Hobbit, or a family of the Shire's rosy-cheeked little-folk. Every Hobbit hole is unique, expressing the personality of its inhabitants with colour, prettily adorned gardens, furniture, and the rustic debris of everyday life. One of the few abodes tucked close to the water's edge, this Hobbit Hole allows a serene look out along the peaceful lake.
